our story

Blondo is a one hundred and nine year old Canadian heritage brand, founded by Loretteville, Quebec moccasin maker Harold Blondeau. Renowned for style, comfort and quality, the brand features waterproof technology in all of its products.

In the mid-1980's, Blondo introduced it's first line of fashionable boots incorporating a new waterproof technology, better known as AquaProtect®.

In 2005, Blondo updated its collection focusing not only on the functionality and durability of its products, but also on the importance of the trendy look of its winter shoes.

In 2015, Blondo's continued passion for innovation, style and functionality ensures that this waterproof footwear manufacturing brand leads in the competitive Canadian and U.S. markets.

QUICK AND EASY MAINTENANCE !

All Blondo® winter shoes are authenticated with the AquaProtect® seal which certifies the use of high quality waterproof leathers and other materials with sealed seam construction. This process provides superior protection against water infiltration and the harmful effects of calcium and salt, as well as providing you with quick and easy maintenance. With a damp cloth, wipe off dirt, calcium and salt easily to restore the finish of your boots and preserve their beauty.

Here are the test results and our recommendations:

- A protective leather spray can be used on most types of leather, suede and nubuck. It is strongly recommended to try the spray on a small surface before applying all over. Spray protectors are recommended only if the shoe shows signs of aging.
 - A shoe polish is suitable for leather but can not be used on suede or nubuck.
 - A small suede brush can be effective for cleaning this material.
 - Liquid silicones are not recommended because they can penetrate the seams and neutralize the waterproof material used to seal the seams. In addition, liquid silicones can erase the leather finish and cause damage, such as sole burns.
- Oils such as mink oil, bear oil or synthetic oil are not recommended on our leathers. These products leave a greasy film, giving an appearance of a broken or weathered finish. In addition, these products penetrate the seams and can neutralize the waterproof material used in the construction of our boots.
- Cleaners or protectors in a spray bottle with a pump applicator are not recommended to be applied directly to our leathers, as they can cause strain on the material. Distributors suggest that cleaners or protectors be applied by a cloth to clean the leather evenly.
